

2016

The Muslim Jewish Interfaith Dialogue Group's Alternative Spring Break

Goldstein, Rachel

<https://hdl.handle.net/2027.42/122846>

<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/4.0/>

Muslim Jewish Interfaith Student Dialogue Group

Alternative Spring Break

Abstract

— — —

Every year, the Muslim Jewish Interfaith Dialogue Group (MuJew) has an alternative spring break trip, both as a way to build bridges between the two religious groups and to engage with the greater community. This was MuJew's second year working at the Mohawk Valley Resource Center for Refugees in Utica, New York. MVRRCR is a non-profit organization provides a variety of services to Utica's growing refugee and immigrant populations. While there, MuJew attended educational talks on refugee resettlement, policy, and experience, and assisted in a variety of tasks in the center. MuJew recognizes the limits of such a short-term volunteer experience in terms of long-term effects. The service learning trip is designed to educate participants on the refugee experience, allow them to form meaningful relationships within a diverse community, and enable them to return to Ann Arbor ready to continue advocating or working with one of world's most vulnerable populations.

Objectives

- ❖ Strengthen ties between the Muslim and Jewish community
- ❖ Empower participants
- ❖ Learn about the refugee experience in America
- ❖ Service work

Challenges

- ❖ Group dynamics
- ❖ The work itself
- ❖ Entering/Exiting a community

What I Learned

- ❖ Leadership skills
- ❖ American Refugee Resettlement process
- ❖ Storymap

Real Life Impact

Empowerment through Knowledge

Service Work

Interfaith Relations

Community Connections

Further Work

What's next?

- ❖ Maintaining new bonds
- ❖ Working with local interfaith organizations
- ❖ Future ASBs
- ❖ Acting as advocates
- ❖ Internships/Careers

Acknowledgements

Jen Cieslewitz

Yasmeen Farran

The Participants

— — —

Tina Al-khersan
Youssef Farran
Alona Henig
Eman Jacksi
Areeba Jibril
Sidra Kader
Marie Keith
Ayyub Khan
Naoshin Khan
Aifa Muhammad Radzi
Ibrahim Rasheed

ANRCR MOHAWK VALLEY
RESOURCE CENTER FOR REFUGEES

Library Partnership

This project is sponsored by a 2015–2016 mini-grant awarded through the University Library’s Student Engagement Program. As part of the mini-grant, I was paired with Susan Wortman, Social Work Librarian.

— — —